Effective Top Teams are the lifeblood of successful, powerful organizations, adding and creating exponential value.

Learn through this case-based course how to make sure that each member is able to flex and grow in a way that helps not only their own development but that of the team.

Our world-class faculty will give you insights into how to navigate this new and rapidly changing environment and address how you can best adapt your leadership style to continue to get the most from your teams. We will take proven methodologies to directly improve the leadership capabilities of top team executives, as measured by the impact they have on even their most skeptical colleagues.
